

The Hutton Club

With the Edinburgh Earth Observatory

Friday 24th March

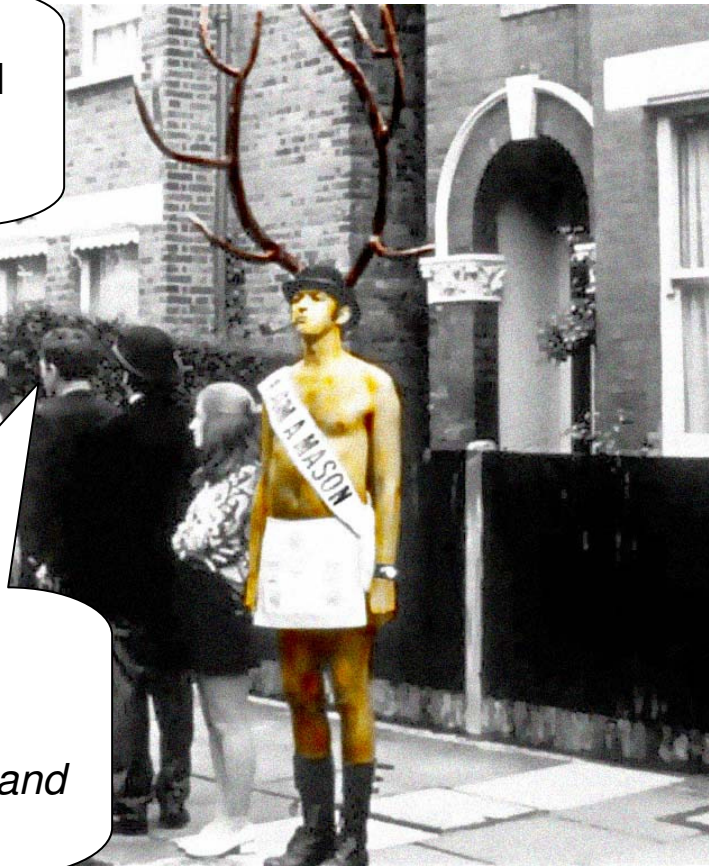

Professor David Miller

The Macaulay Institute, Craigiebuckler, Aberdeen

Oi! You with the antlers!
You're not the only special club who has a secret handshake you know?

Oh quite so. I heard the Hutton Club is infinitely more sophisticated, they don't have a dress code and they give you free crisps.

‘Landscape simulation and monitoring, linking data to use’

Old Library – Geography – 4 pm

Hand your antlers over at the counter to receive a refreshment voucher.
